Out of stock items

We try to keep all patterns in stock at all times, but sometimes we run out of something and must backorder. We will let you know when this happens, and will ship the out-of-stock item when it arrives.

About shipping and handling

U.S. shipping: We ship U.S. orders by First Class, Priority Mail, or UPS Ground to a street address, for delivery within 7-10 business days of your order. Orders to U.S. post office boxes, and to Hawaii and Alaska addresses, are sent by First Class or Priority Mail.

APO/FPO shipping: APO and FPO addresses are considered U.S. addresses for purposes of shipping. However, orders to these addresses are subject to international security regulations and may be slightly delayed in the destination countries.

International shipping: International orders (including Canada and Mexico) are shipped by Air Mail, for delivery within 10-14 business days of your order. During very busy times, such as the end-of-year holiday season and summer vacation season, international orders can be delayed in Customs by as much as two additional weeks.

Rush shipping: We are happy to ship orders to continental U.S. addresses by UPS 2nd Day Air for an additional $12.00 charge. NOTE: UPS 2nd Day Air is a "business day only" service. Guaranteed Saturday delivery is an extra charge on top of the 2nd Day Air charge.

What's included in handling?

Handling charges on top of actual postage costs cover the envelope or box that protects your order, overhead costs of our warehouse such as lights and heat, payroll costs for our warehouse staff, mileage to the post office, and time spent standing in line to hand-deliver all parcels to postal staff according to Federal security regulations.

About customer service

We want you to love Folkwear patterns as much as we do, so we are committed to your satisfaction!

Returns: If any item in your order does not meet your expectations, return the unused merchandise for exchange, credit, or refund. Send to Folkwear Returns, P.O. Box 189, Barnardsville, NC 28709-0189, USA. We cannot credit or refund original and return shipping charges.

Questions about your order: If you have questions about the status of your order, email us at mail@folkwear.com or telephone us at 1-888-200-9099 (toll-free) or 1-828-626-3100 Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Eastern time. If you get our answering machine, please leave a message with your complete phone number so we can call you back as soon as possible.

Technical questions: If you have questions about any pattern, just give us a call or send an email. Our staff has made just about every pattern and can often help clarify the instructions.

Email newsletter:

About three times a year, we put together an email newsletter that reports on Folkwear news and also informative tidbits from the fascinating world of costume and fashion. We periodically include special offers that are available only online. If you are interested in receiving this newsletter, send your email address to mail@folkwear.com.

Your privacy

We respect your privacy and will not violate it. We do not rent, sell, or otherwise make available our mailing list to other companies without your permission. However, we may periodically contact you about Folkwear products, special promotions, or other Folkwear news. If you wish to decline any contact from Folkwear, please let us know so we can remove you from our list.

Our copyrights:

All Folkwear patterns have copyrights registered with the United States Library of Congress. Purchasing a Folkwear pattern gives you the legal right to make it for personal use only. It is a violation of those copyrights to use Folkwear patterns to create garments that you then re-sell online, through craft outlets, in stores, at fairs, events, auctions, or other sites. If you do custom sewing, you may request that a client purchase his or her own copy of a Folkwear pattern that you then make up; this would not be in violation.

If you wish to pursue a garment enterprise, we recommend that you work with a dressmaker or designer to create your own original patterns, for which you will have your own copyright protection.
